

GOVERNED BY PRECEDENT.

The twelve Superior Judges of San Francisco elected Judge Trout, one of their number, for Presiding Judge, for the year 1892. The citizens in mass meeting, respectfully requested the re-election of Judge Wallace, and appointed a committee to inform the Judges, but the latter stated that they were compelled to be governed by precedent and select a new Presiding Judge each year.

Mr. Gibbs, one of the Committee appointed to call upon the Court and urge the re-election of Judge Wallace, said he and his associates represented the general sentiment of the people of San Francisco, as expressed by the meeting which appointed them, and he regretted exceedingly that the Judges could not have recognized the wishes of the public and re-elected Judge Wallace as Presiding Judge. He said he had served on several grand juries in San Francisco and all seemed to be controlled by a majority, packed in the interest of Buckley. At one time a county clerk freely admitted to the grand jury that he had collected over $2,800 in assessments from his deputies, yet the ring in the grand jury was so strong that no indictment could be found against the self-acknowledged criminal. His whole experience with grand juries was that nothing could be done against hoodlums.

The statement of Mr. Gibbs to the Superior Judges, shows the necessity of having an honest and courageous man like Wallace for Presiding Judge of the Superior Court of San Francisco. It has been shown that it will not do to be governed by precedent in selecting and impaneling grand juries to investigate official scoundrelism and public plunderers, where the officers of the law are tools of the bosses and the hoodlums. Judge Trout may be as honest as Judge Wallace, but if he is governed by precedent, as the Judges were in electing him, in impaneling grand juries, judging by Mr. Gibbs' experience, the hoodlums will have no occasion to emigrate to Canada.

A COAL MINE EXPLOSION.

A terrific explosion occurred night before last in the Osage coal mine at Krebs, Indian Territory. About 350 men were in the mine at the time, and the belief is that 200 of that number were killed. The explosion was caused by firing a blast when the mine was full of gas. The men were about to change shift, and were congregated at the bottom of the shaft, waiting for the cage, at the time of the explosion. Over one-half the number were instantly hurled into eternity, their mutilated bodies being unrecognizable. Yesterday it was reported that only 128 men of the 350 were known to have escaped death and many of that number are badly burned.

The scenes at the mouth of the shaft when the bodies of the victims of the disaster were being brought to the surface, were heart-rending. Hundreds of anxious wives, mothers and children were gathered round the mouth of the shaft, eagerly watching the cage as it reached the surface, in the vain hope that it would bring their loved ones alive, even if wounded, from the dreadful death hole to the light of day.

As such disasters are frequent in coal mines, it would seem that laws ought to be enacted for their prevention. Somebody ought to be responsible for permitting powder to be used in a mine when it is liable to destroy hundreds of lives and desolate hundreds of homes.

THE GRIPPE.

The influenza or disease which medical men, and everybody else, call the grippé, is as prevalent in Europe and in many parts of the United States as it was two years ago. In London the death rate has increased in a week from 32 to 42 per thousand. The disease spares neither patrician nor plebeian. The servants in the royal palaces as well as their masters are afflicted. Members of Parliament and firm hands are sick, and in some places farm work is at a standstill, all the laborers being ill.

In Austria, Belgium, Denmark and northern Europe generally, the disease is increasing.

In Paris and some other parts of France, the mortality is far above the average, and the hospitals are crowded with victims of the grippé.

In Rome, many of the Cardinals, as well as others, are suffering from the disease and at Milan it has taken the form of meningitis and delirium.

In Spain the Queen and young King are suffering from the influenza, besides tens of thousands of others.

As far west as Constantinople, the disease is prevalent though not fatal, while in Algeria on the African coast of the Mediterranean the death rate has increased from 7 to 32 per cent.

In the United States the grippé is almost as prevalent as it was in January and February, 1890, and deaths from pneumonia which result from the grippé, are of frequent occurrence.

Washington correspondents repeat the assertion that the Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the Nebraska State Court and decided that Boyd is the legal Governor of the State.

The Baltimore Investigation.

VALLEJO, January 8.—The investigation into the assault on the Baltimore's sailors in Valparaiso on October 16 last was continued to-day by Judge Advocate Remy and District Attorney Garter. At 1 o'clock two typewritten copies of the first day and a half's proceedings were mailed in letters to the Secretary of the Navy at Washington. The facts adduced to-day, while mostly in corroboration of yesterday's testimony regarding the murder of Riggins, also brought forth more strongly than ever the fact that the assault had been planned before hand. At the same time Riggins was lying on the pavement while two policemen idly watched the mob plunging knives into his back, two negro coal heavers in a distant part of the city were flying before a mob of Chilean manufacturers men who finally overtook them, stabbing one and robbing the other of all his money. Another man in still a third part of the district was chased and thrown into the bay, and would have been drowned but for the protection given him by French naval officers. The only thing to the credit of the Chileans so far, is that a squad of army officers escorted five or six of the Baltimore sailors to the wharf and sent them aboard the ship.

The claim made by Prosecutor Fiscal of Valparaiso that all but two witnesses testified that the police had done their duty, has been completely demolished. Of seven witnesses so far examined, five state that they testified to the exact contrary before the Chilean court. It is also becoming evident that the Baltimore men were really sober when on shore that October afternoon. Not only do they assert this themselves but statements of their officers and the characters of the men prove it. Captain Schley says he saw a number of them only twenty minutes before the row began, and was astonished to see how sober and well-behaved they were. Forty-three of the men who were ashore were petty officers and all were men who received special privileges on account of long continued good conduct. All had their reputations to lose. The petty officers are men promoted to that rank for efficiency and long service, sobriety and general good conduct, and are not accustomed to get drunk and lose what they have attained.

At the afternoon session J. B. Larson, John H. Davidson, John Hamilton, Charles Abbey, Jerry Anderson and L. A. Wallace, members of the Baltimore's crew who were attacked by Chileans, all testified that they had been warned that the Chileans would mob them. They all declare the Baltimore's men were sober and that the attack was unprovoked.

The work of the Commission is now proceeding rapidly and probably will be finished in a week. Repairs on the Baltimore will be very slight. It has been found that the paint is off the hull only along the water line, and except for a slight reduction in speed, caused by barnacles, she could have remained at Valparaiso indefinitely in as good condition as when she first arrived there. It has just become known to the officers of the Baltimore that John H. Davidson of the crew was tried by a criminal court at Valparaiso on a charge even yet unknown, convicted and sentenced to five years imprisonment, without either himself or Captain Schley being informed that he was under trial, and in the face of the statement to Schley by the Valparaiso authorities that no charges were pending against any of the Baltimore's crew.

The National Executive Silver Committee Issues an Address.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—The National Executive Silver Committee to-night issued a long address. It says continued experience demonstrates that there can be no adequate final solution of the money question but by re-empowering silver with a money function, making silver coins standard money co-equal with gold, for all money used. The present policy of making subsidiary money of silver to be redeemed by gold, is unsafe and must end. The supply of gold is admittedly inadequate to provide for the world's need of money and will rapidly increase in value, and prices of commodities measured by gold will fall. It is reasonably certain that the supply of both metals will be sufficient to maintain fairly stable relations between money and commodities, and thus secure to the industrial world what it has sorely lacked since 1873. The baggage of foreign silver coming here no longer alarms intelligent men. Silver would be $1 24 an ounce here; it is $1 38 in India, and with open mints would be $1 33 in the States or the Latin Union, which is the value of all coined silver of Europe. If the value of silver here should fall to fifty cents an ounce, as it probably will if demonetized, while its purchasing power among two-thirds of the population of the globe continues at from $1 33 to $1 38, then the production of silver in this country should be made a crime, as its production and sale here at a low price, while used in other countries at a high price, would be destructive of our agricultural and manufacturing interests. The silver question, therefore, is the issue that virtually concerns the welfare of the industrial classes, and business generally, and will not down at the bidding of any party. Nor can it be ignored or dodged that the only permanent settlement of it is the restoration of free bimetallic coinage or the ultimate abandonment of the principal of the automatic regulation of money through the prod action of precious metals.

New York Democrats Celebrate the Anniversary of New Orleans.

NEW YORK, January 8.—The seventy-seventh anniversary of New Orleans was celebrated by the Business Men's Democratic Association to-night by a banquet. Among those present were Grover Cleveland, Daniel S. Lamont, Governor Abbott of New Jersey, Senator Cantor, Hon. Wm. Springer and others. Mr. Cleveland responded to the toast "The Day We Celebrate." After paying tribute to Andrew Jackson, Mr. Cleveland said: "With success already achieved amounting to a political revolution, it would be the height of folly to relax in the least our determination and persistence. The least retreat bodes disaster. We have preached the doctrine that honesty and sincerity be-exacted from political parties. Let us not fail under the condemnation which waits on insincere professions. If inspired by true Jacksonian spirit we hold to the doctrine that party honesty is party duty, and party courage is party expediency. We shall win sure and lasting success through the deserved support and discrimination of intelligent, thoughtful people."

Hon. Wm. Springer, speaking on the issues of the day, said the most important issue in the next campaign would be the tariff question. While a general revision of the tariff by this Congress was utterly impossible, many provisions of the McKinley bill were so outrageous and oppressive as to demand an immediate repeal or modification, and he thought something in this direction might be accomplished.

Trouble Brewing Among the Indians.

PITTSBURGH, January 8.—First Lieutenant Burke of the Second Cavalry was a passenger on the Eastern express this morning bound for Washington. He came direct from the Pine Ridge Agency, and will report the condition of the Indians there to Secretary Noble.

"Trouble is brewing among the Indians at the agency," said he, "and my firm belief is that they will soon start another crusade against the whites. They are again talking about the Messiah and it will not be long before the ghost dance will again be resumed."

Relinquished His Pension.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—Secretary Noble received a letter from an ex-soldier of Boston enclosing a pension certificate, saying he voluntarily relinquished it, not wishing further assistance from the Government.

A Sensible Mother-in-Law.

While a New York young lady was being married to a well to do young farmer of Long Island a few days ago, her mother stood outside the church and wept. It was explained that she had seen the bridegroom walking about his farm in his bare feet, and had thus taken a dislike to him.—Philadelphia Record.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. NEW YORK, N.Y. LOUISVILLE, KY.

There is a New York woman who deserves honorable mention. Less than a year ago the editor of 'The Doll's Dress-maker' who conceals her identity under the most suitable pen name of Jennie Wray, started her venture in this unique literary field. Now it takes 50,000 copies to supply the demand for the little monthly, a brilliant testimonial to what a woman can do when the need is great.

Dr. Emily Keppen, professor of the law class of women students, is the first woman professor to lecture before a class of men students since the women lectured at Bologna in the days of the Fifteenth century. Her marked ability has been so clearly demonstrated in her work with women that Professor Russell has included her among the instructors of the men students.

Among the New York ladies who own beautiful and valuable jewels are Mrs. Lindley Chapin, who has a diamond necklace, which she sometimes wears as a tiara, worth $10,000; Mrs. John Bloodgood, who has a pair of solitaire diamond earrings worth $5,000; Mrs. George Lewis, who has a pair of splendid solitaire diamond earrings and a handsome diamond necklace.

Caroline S. Brooks, the sculptor, who prefers butter, putty or dough to clay for modeling, and who became famous fifteen years ago when she exhibited the "Sleeping Iolanthe" in butter at the Centennial exhibition, will send the same model in marble to the World's Fair in 1893. Mrs. Brooks came from Missouri, but has lived in New York several years.

SPOTS OF MUDD.

A Street Scene Yesterday.

A pedestrian of the itinerant persuasion who looked as though he had been born tired, yesterday started to cross the street opposite the First National Bank. When nearly at his destination he trod upon a small cake of ice which suddenly became endowed with a surprising amount of activity and started with a sport towards Carson. There was a wild rush of both his feet to follow it, a whole lot of stars glittered in the noonday sky, and a landscape was painted upon the under side of the unfortunate man's pants from alpha to his waistband in less time than it takes to tell it. The victim of the accident did not swear or utter anything condemnatory of the weather. He only gazed with sad retrospection at the manner in which the fertility of the Nevada soil had impressed itself upon his understanding, and all the painful emotions of his soul found vent in the one word, "gosh."

THOUGHT IT WAS PA.

They were going out clandestinely to spend the evening together at a neighbor's house. He was her young man and she was his girl. They had been planning the trip for some time, and last night he went up after her. The electric light on Virginia street two blocks away did not lessen the shadows very much where her house was situated so he could stand near the gate by the hedge and whistle for her to come out. He did so, and very shortly was enraptured to see her open the door and come running down the board walk preparatory to falling into his arms. Now there was a not-ho's in next to the last board, and underneath it a little puddle of muddy water. The end of that particular board was loose also, and just as she was about to fall into his arms it went off and struck the young man in his right eye. The only solution as to why he gave a single shriek of mortal agony and started down street as though he was trying to catch up with the latter end of last week, was that he was afraid of the girl to the stranger who assisted her out of the mud, was that he probably thought it was Pa.

BRAVE GIRLS.

They Rescue Their Father From a Perilous Position.

The Lassen Mail has the following: "Last week E. T. Wood of Beckwith met with a very serious and painful accident. In order to remove a large rock in his well, weighing a ton or more, he dug an incline at one side of the well for the rock to roll into, but before he was ready to move the rock, the dirt gave way and the rock rolled in on him, breaking two or three of his ribs and his collar bone. Mr. Wood sent for Dr. Bush, who set the bones, and he reports the injured man doing as well as could be expected. But what is remarkable about the accident is that Mr. Wood's two little girls got him out of the well, but neither he nor they can really tell how they got the rock off and him out. The girls are about thirteen and fifteen years old respectively."

More Newspapers Falling into Line.

The Austin Advocate is with the Journal for an independent electoral ticket in case the old parties give us gold bug Presidential candidates. The list now stands for such a ticket: State Journal, Eureka Sentinel, Carson Appeal, Austin Reveille and People's Advocate.—Reno Journal. And, neighbor, you can add the Times-Review to the list, for it has long been the fixed determination of this scribe to support, irrespective of party, any candidate who is sound for the white metal. And, by the way, this feeling is shared by the masses of both parties in this balliwick.—Times-Review.

The Carson Appeal says the Lyon County Times can also be added to the list, but as the Times has not been received at this office since before the holidays the Journal cannot state what it says on the subject.

A Comstock Edison.

It has been reported that Michael Flynn, a Comstock inventor, has constructed a balloon that has the faculty of being suspended in the air while the earth revolves under it. By this means the machine covers a thousand miles of the earth's surface in an hour.

The Stockton Mail dashes the hopes of the inventor by showing that the earth has two motions; one around its axis and the other around the sun.

By the round the sun motion the earth would slip away from the balloon at the rate of one and a half million miles per day. This can be remedied. By hitching a piece of rubber to the machine and connecting it to Mt. Davidson it could be conventionally yanked back in place.—Carson Appeal.

Ventilation.

Not the politician's sort, but the fresh air you need. Health and comfort often suffer for this kind of ventilation. Never sleep in a poorly ventilated room. You'll wake up unrefreshed, out of sorts, and bilious. Perhaps you can't improve the ventilation, but you can take Simmons' Liver Regulator for that torpid liver, to keep it active against the ill effects of a close atmosphere which causes that languid feeling.

ROYAL IS THE Best Baking Powder

The Official Government Reports:

The United States Government, after elaborate tests, reports the ROYAL BAKING POWDER to be of greater leavening strength than any other. (Bulletin 13, Ag. Dep., p. 599.)

The Canadian Official Tests, recently made, show the ROYAL BAKING POWDER highest of all in leavening strength. (Bulletin 10, p. 16, Inland Rev. Dep.)

In practical use, therefore, the ROYAL BAKING POWDER goes further, makes purer and more perfect food than any other.

Government Chemists Certify:

"The Royal Baking Powder is composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. EDWARD G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"The Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. "HENRY A. MOTT, M.D., Ph.D."

"The Royal Baking Powder is purest in quality and highest in strength of any baking powder of which I have knowledge. "WM. McMurtrie, Ph.D."
